INCOME FROM BIG BEQUEST

Final Settlement of Estate of Charles
R. Gregory Releases $250,000 to University.

A fund of about a quarter million dollars which will yield annually an income of at least $9,500 to be used in assisting needy students at the University of Missouri has just been released through the final settlement of the estate of Charles R. Gregory, it was announced in St. Louis by the attorney in charge of the estate.

The quarter million dollar residue of the estate will be turned over to the university within the next few days. A committee of five to be appointed by A. Ross Hill, president of the university, will manage the fund which has been designated as the William Alexander Gregory educational fund, in memory of a brother of Charles Gregory.

Gregory was a dry goods merchant who died in 1909, leaving a life interest in his estate to Miss Maria Carter Gregory, a former resident of St. Louis, who died in Paris a year ago. Half of the one-half million dollar estate was bequeathed to religious institutions and the remaining half to the aid of university students of either sex.

LEAVES BABY ON HIS PORCH

Warrensburg Banker Will Find Home
for Abandoned Three-Weeks-Old Infant.

A boy baby about 3 weeks old was found by George W. Lemmon on the front porch of his home in Warrensburg at 1 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Lemmon was awakened by the door bell, but found nothing. His wife heard the cry of a baby later and when Mr. Lemmon investigated he found the child on a settee in a dark corner of the porch. The child was well clothed and in a bundle by its side was a complete layette. The police believe the child was left at Mr. Lemmon's home by a woman who came to Warrensburg on a late train. Mr. Lemmon is secretary of a local trust and banking company. He will keep the baby until a good home is found for it.

St. Joseph Tragedy.—James W. Stevenson shot and probably fatally wounded his wife, fired at her little son by a former marriage, but missed him, because the boy hid under a table, and killed himself at St. Joseph because the woman from whom he was separated, refused to return to him. Six shots were fired at the woman, one taking effect in her head and the other in her body. Her condition is critical.

Takes Carbolic Acid.—Matt H. Kneuen, age 40, committed suicide at Glasgow by taking carbolic acid. He had been separated from his wife for about two months and he went to her house threatening to kill her. She escaped. Kneuen left the house, went to a creek nearby and drank acid.

SIDE LINES HELP FARMERS

Missouri Cider, Vinegar, Wine and Sorghum Always Find a Ready Market.

Side lines, such as cider, vinegar, wine and grape juice, and syrup and sugar making, were found profitable by Missouri farmers in 1913, with St. Louis, Kansas City, Chicago, St. Joseph, Omaha and several Missouri centers as the cities in which the products were marketed. Commissioner John T. Fitzpatrick, in a bulletin of the bureau of labor statistics makes this statement. Only spare moments were devoted by most husbandmen to these lines, and yet the quantity produced was so enormous that it would have sold for, approximately $1,490,819, had the entire production been marketed, asserts the bulletin. Probably only three-fifths of the output of these commodities was sold. They are the real articles with which the factory diluted products do not compare, consequently find a high price market with the demand exceeding the supply.

BOTH BLUE AND GRAY THERE

Union and Confederate Veterans
Pallbearers at Funeral of One of Morgan's Troopers.

In accordance with the last request of John W. Browning, who was a trooper in the command of Gen. John Morgan of Kentucky, three veterans of the Union army and three veterans of the Confederate army were pallbearers at Mr. Browning's funeral the other day. Mr. Browning was 80 years old. With him the war was over as soon as Lee surrendered, and he always manifested a kind disposition towards those with whom he had fought. The men selected to act as pallbearers are all leaders in that section, and their feelings are in hearty accord with the last request of the former soldier.

The average life of a goose is from twelve to fifteen years, the oldest previous record here was twenty years. The 33-year-old gander was a gay old bird and got much sport out of pulling hens from the nests. He never would hurt them or eat the eggs. He just liked to hear them cackle.

Operation Saves Baby.—It is believed the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Smygel of St. Joseph will live following a 25-foot headforemost plunge over a banister in which a part of her skull, two inches square, was crushed in. The child was operated on, the surgeon trepanning the skull, raising the crushed part of the bone into place.

SPRING FEVER

IS HEALTHY

It Indicates Fresh Hopes and Renewed Buoyancy of Spirit.

How wonderfully tight the spring wonderlust for the countryside grips one!

Spring fever, with all of its healthfulness, is the harbinger of fresh hopes and a buoyancy of spirit.

I noticed a passenger on a Detroit-Chicago train the other day who had started out on his trip with the evident intention of becoming deeply taken with one of the best sellers, that he might shorten the trip between the two cities. You have done the same thing yourself.

But his book had been cast aside. He had read only a few pages. His interest in it had lagged.

From the car windows he was counting the fields now bare of snow. The ditches were carrying away the water and the still less sluggish creeks were now streams bearing the overflow to the rivers. The farmer, in his shirt sleeves, was repairing the fences after the winter drifts; the cattle showing proof of a winter's stabling and now heading here and there toward the meadows, seeking the new-green patches of grass; the farm help, in field and stubble, was putting into repair this and that necessary feature, here looking after his plow and there his harrow, and on all sides were scenes which reminded the traveler that spring was here, at last!

As the train sped onward and glimpses of the painter as he worked on the weather-beaten buildings were revealed, the interest of the tourist was aroused and, when I asked him the reason, he answered: "Spring is here and I feel its blood flowing!"

The truth was, that like many others, he was planning the work he was to do the coming summer. He was going out to the farm—his farm in Western Canada. He had his wells to dig, his horses to get into shape, his grain implements to fix up, his seed grain to prepare, and other details for the land that was ready to receive it. His was what might be termed an "unrest"—to get to the farm!

Thousands in Western Canada today are making the preparations that this interested man contemplated. Their summer fallows are ready for the wheat, their spring plowing is being attended to, fences are being rebuilt or being put into repair; indeed, the entire country is one great hive of industry.

Railroads are in readiness to take care of a great rush of settlers, those charged with the reception of whom are prepared to extend every courtesy and thus meet the rush with judgment and without the least friction. Thus, the enjoyment of the opening of spring is fully met.

At many of the stations throughout many of the middle western states, trains of settlers' effects are in readiness to move to Western Canada. Not only in these states are scenes of this kind to be witnessed, but, also, on either coast and throughout the eastern states there is the same activity among those going to Western Canada this spring. The crops have been heavy and all reports are that the winter was enjoyable; also, that the prospects for a satisfactory year were never better. There is plenty of land yet to be had by homesteading or otherwise. Adapted, as Western Canada is, to small grain farming, it is especially adapted to cattle raising and many of the farmers are placing small and large herds, as their individual means will permit.

The illustrated literature sent out by the Canadian government agents tells the truth clearly and the inquirer should send for a copy and if you be one of those who has an ambitious interest, you may be the gainer by a perusal of such information—straight, cold facts in themselves.—Advertisement.

RASH ITCHED AND BURNED

400 South Hermitage Ave., Chicago, Ill.—"I was attacked with a breaking out on the inside of my arms. It was a small rash or pimples and it itched and burned, especially at night, so that before I knew it I had made myself sore. I had to wear the finest kind of cotton underwear, no woolen at all, because the least thing irritated it and made it much worse. The rash itched and smarted until at times I got no sleep at all.

"I had this trouble and took treatments for about one year, but they only gave me relief while taking them. Then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I got relief right away. In three months I was a well man again." (Signed) H. W. Foley, Nov. 5, 1912.
